

ASAM Appropriate Use of Drug Testing Webinar and IMD Webinar to be Rescheduled

July 19th ASAM Appropriate Use of Drug Testing Webinar

On July 19th, a webinar will be held on the American Society of Addiction Medicine (ASAM) Appropriate Use of Drug Testing in Clinical Addiction Medicine.

Upon completion of this free webinar, participants should be able to:

- Recognize the importance of the guidance needed around drug testing today;
- Identify the fundamental components of drug testing in a clinical setting;
- Summarize the document's recommendations and discuss how they should be used in practice;
- Address common clinical questions around drug testing in a clinical setting.

The NEW ASAM consensus document allows providers, patients and their families, healthcare administrators, and payers determine clearly what is appropriate practice and what is considered outside the realm of appropriate practice in regard to drug testing in clinical addiction medicine.

Register for the 7/19 webinar | View the NEW ASAM consensus document

July 20th IMD Webinar to be Rescheduled

The Institution for Mental Diseases (IMD) webinar originally scheduled for July 20th needs to be rescheduled for a future date. Once it is determined, a new date will be will be announced via a MITS Bits and/or Newsletter.